Prepared by Dr Chris Field

To better understand the best answers to these questions refer to PARENTING HORIZONS by Dr Field.

- What are you training your children for?

- Are those things short-term (for the life of your child) or multi-generational?

- The Bible refers to children as “seed”, which means they reproduce after their own kind.

What kind of seed has your child become? Eg: Good, Holy, Self-centred, Proud, Godly, Evil....

Note that “good” is not the same as “godly”. Good people may have no interest in God and His ways.

- What kind of seed are you? eg: Godly (reproducing Godly generations), or ????

- What are the “godly” things in your child’s life?

- What is the Word of the Lord over your life? (What has God said you are here for?)

- What is the Word of the Lord over your child’s life? (What has God said they are here for?)

- What godly things have you made normal in your child’s life? (eg: humility, worship, giving, faith)

- How well has your child developed a commitment to those things?

- What bad things have you made normal in your child's life? (Materialism, Success, Selfishness, Sensuality, Anger)

- How well has your child developed an interest in those things?

- How well do you expect your child to hold to the right way all of their life?

- How well have you balanced punishment and praise in your parenting?

- How well does your child sense that God is disciplining and directing them through you?

- Is there anything you need to repent to God about in your role as a parent? If so, do it now.
- Is there anything you need God to undo in your child's life? If so, pray about it right now!
